Lyons Gets Major Support in State; Looks Like Winner

Illinois Assn. of Supervisors Gives Unanimous Endorsement

The elected officers and members of the executive committee of the Illinois Association of Supervisors and County Commissioners, today announced, through James R. Cannell, of Shirland, their President, that they have unanimously endorsed the candidacy of Richard J. Lyons for Governor. The action was taken at an executive session of the organization's officials in Springfield.

Cannell stated that this organization represents the 89 downstate county boards which includes 1450 supervisors. "Our decision to support Richard J. Lyons," he declared, "was motivated by his fine work of 10 years in the Illinois General Assembly. It was Lyons who led a legislative relief investigation in the House and then introduced a bill which took from the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission the administrative authority on relief and returned it to the local township officers. Besides this, he has consistently shown himself to be the best qualified man in the race to whom the people of Illinois can entrust their state government for the next four years."

"Our organization," he continued, "represents both Republicans and Democrats. There are Democrats on the Executive committee and they joined in passing a resolution of endorsement unanimously."

Postmaster Exams

Attract Attention

Attracting considerable attention from even the metropolitan press is the uncertainty surrounding the Antioch postmastership race.

Twenty-seven candidates for the office, including Present Postmaster James Horan, knit their brows and chewed their pencils over questions in the civil service examinations conducted here Saturday, for, after all, although 27 were "called," only one could be "chosen."

However, it appears, there are various possibilities of eliminations.

Several of the candidates are Republicans, and while the postmastership appointment is supposed to be strictly on a merit basis, there have been critics who, perhaps somewhat captiously, have suggested that maybe the merits of the Democrats among them might weigh just a little more heavily in the scales of a Democratic postal dynasty's appraisal. A question of whether or not the holding of public office at the present time might not be a barrier for other candidates has also been raised.

Those who took the examinations included:

Oliver R. Hughes, John L. Horan, E. Elmer Brook, William Simms Phillips, Raymond L. Burnett, Frank H. Willett, Norbert J. Pacini, Carl J. Pachay, Raymond E. Sorenson, Daniel E. Sheehan, James F. Horan, Miss Lillian M. Vykuta, Stanton M. Hazen, Jacob D. Drom, Theodore J. Palaske, Homer O. Winch, Hugh E. Hufendick, Willard J. Murphy, Emil R. Lubkenn, Alexander G. Hughes, Edwin O. Kapsa, H. Lisle Rogers, Charles Cernak, Jr., Richard F. Allner, R. G. Holtz, G. Dudley Kennedy and Roy L. Kufalk.

Jim Harvey Heads Student Council at High School

James Harvey, junior at the Antioch Township High school was elected president of the Student Council at a meeting of the student body Friday morning. Others recommended for the presidency were Fred Hawkins, Roberta Selter, Frank Petty and Joyce Anderson.

The election was held early this year in order that the new officers may attend the state convention of student council groups to be held next month, if the local council decides to send delegates.

The student council is regarded as the governing body of the student group, recommending decisions as to ethics, discipline, and social activities of the school, always under faculty supervision, of course. Student councils are the outgrowth of the principle that "best government is self-government."

Dairy, Poultry Feeding to be Discussed Mon.

Experts Will Speak Here at "Feeders' Day" Meet and Luncheon

Farm events will hold a featured place on Antioch's calendar next week, with special programs planned for both Monday and Wednesday.

Farmers interested in the progress that has been made in the study of scientific cattle and poultry feeding are being invited to attend the "Dairy and Poultry Feeders' Day" to be sponsored here Monday, by the Antioch Milling company.

George Wagner, manager of the company, has been instrumental in having "Tiny" Pratt, well known Missouri dairyman, and Don Parcell, manager of Purina Poultry Chow, come here as the speakers.

In Odd Fellows Hall The gathering will be held in the Odd Fellows hall on Ida avenue, from 10:30 to 3:30 o'clock. A free luncheon will be served at noon, so that those who come for the morning session may without inconvenience stay over for the afternoon.

Pratt will talk on dairy feeding. Parcell, who has made a specialized study of poultry feeding, will answer all questions on the care of poultry.

"Little Theatre" Movement to be Started Here

High School Alumni Will Sponsor First Play April 11 and 12

Play try-outs are being started this week preparatory to the organization of a "Little Theater Guild" for Antioch.

"Brigol and His Daughter," a three-act comedy by Alfred Kappus, has been chosen for the first play, to be given the evenings of April 11 and 12 in the Antioch High School auditorium.

The plays will be sponsored by various local organizations, it is planned, and these organizations will in turn receive the proceeds from them.

Call for Players

Proceeds from the first play will go to the Antioch High School Alumni association, of which Willard Murphy is president and John Dupre treasurer.

Five men's parts and four women's will be required for the first play. Persons interested in trying out for them may telephone Homer LaPlant, at Antioch 285.

Clair Elliott, who has had several years' experience in directing amateur theatricals in Detroit, has been prevailed upon to act as director.

Federated Youth to Meet Monday, March 4

The next meeting of the Federated Christian Youth of Lake county will take place at the Winthrop Harbor Methodist church at 8 p. m. Monday, March 4.

The group is sponsoring a "potato shower" for the Lake Bluff orphanage. Each member is asked to bring some potatoes to this meeting.

Rod & Gun Club Sees Movies of Hunting, Fishing

Large Attendance Is Present at Meeting in H. S. Auditorium

Subjects calculated to appeal to sportsmen and nature lovers—scenes of duck hunting and fishing, to mention nothing of "big game" hunting—were featured in the program of motion pictures and talks enjoyed by a large audience at a meeting of the Antioch Rod and Gun club last evening in the Antioch High school auditorium.

Many guests were present, and the resort owners around Antioch were well represented in the gathering.

"Wheels Over Africa" was the title of the "big game" hunting picture. Motion pictures of fishing in Canada, and of duck hunting along the Illinois river at Ottawa, Ill., gave variety to the program.

The fishing and duck hunting pictures were taken by George Peterson, Waukegan, who showed them here.

Fishing Rules Unchanged

James Lynch, deputy conservation warden, answered questions on the spring fishing rules and other conservation matters. Rumors to the effect that there would be changes in the fishing laws this spring were denied. These changes are made by the conservation department usually only in odd-numbered years, it was pointed out.

The possibility of having larger stocks of fish "planted" in lakes around Antioch was mentioned, and the club secretary, R. H. Childers, was instructed to write letters of inquiry to state and regional conservation officials.

Several new members have been added to the Rod and Gun club lately, President R. G. Holtz announced.

A luncheon was served after the meeting.

Farm Census Will Aid Agriculture, Says Director F. M. Hamlin

Facts Collected to Provide a Guide for the Future

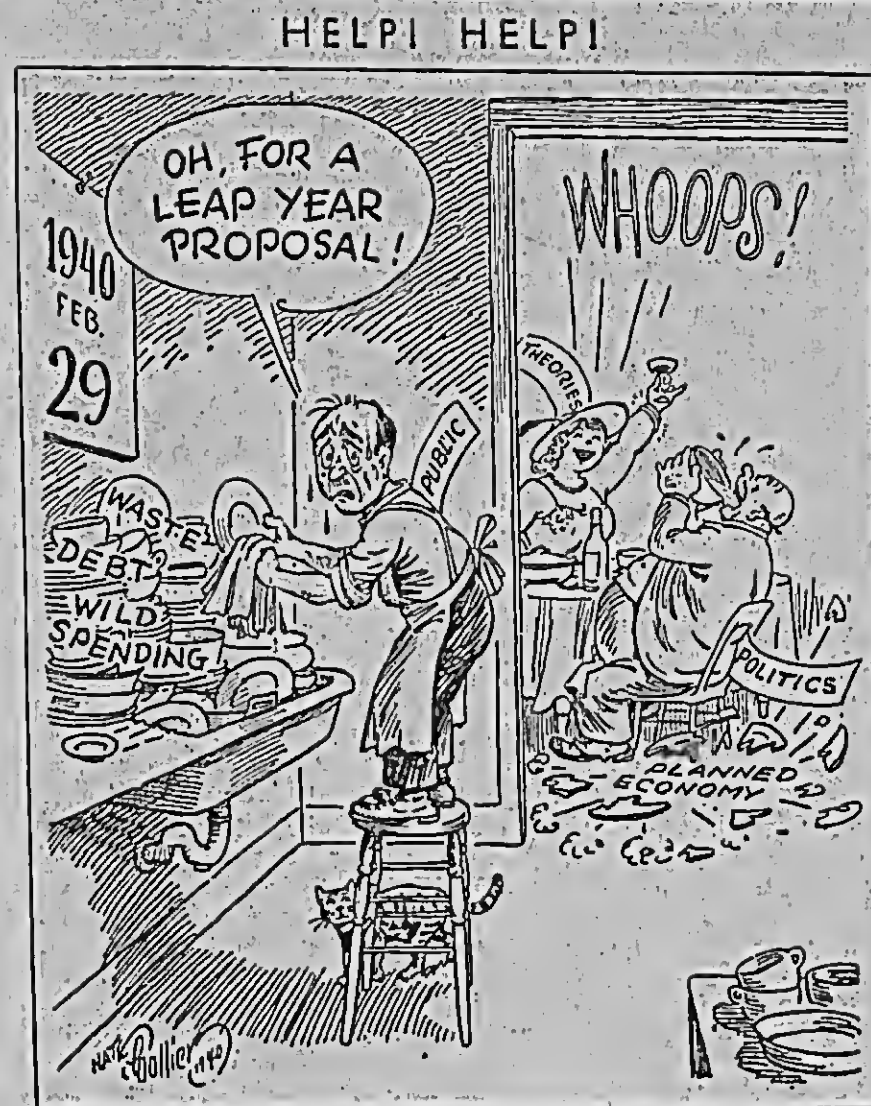

"No group has a greater degree of self-interest in the success of the Decennial Census of 1940 than has the farmer," declares F. M. Hamlin, District Supervisor of the Census for this district.

"Agriculture as an industry has been in bad health for a number of years," declared Mr. Hamlin. "Just as a prudent person goes to his doctor for a complete checkup, the farmer will in the Census of 1940 get the most complete study of their symptoms that has ever been made. Facts to be collected on the seven million farms will provide the farmers themselves, the government, and students of the farm problem with a guide to the future."

"The nation as a whole cannot be fundamentally prosperous unless the farmer is prosperous," declared Mr. Hamlin, "because the farmer directly supports 25 per cent of our population and the business of farming affects about half of all our people. Besides being the producer of the nation's food supply, the farmer is one of the largest customers of the business man. The farmer's ability to purchase goods directly affects all business as well as their workers in the city. The farmer is one of the greatest suppliers of raw materials for industry."

"Vital changes throughout the world have directly affected the prosperity of the American farmer," explains Mr. Hamlin. "Dislocation of world markets due to wars and the efforts of foreign nations to make themselves self-sufficient has made the American farmer surplus burdensome by curtailing exports. Mechanization of farms has increased farm production while decreasing the number of consumers even on the farm. Greater mechanization in factories has reduced physical labor and the demand for staple food products. Lighter women's clothes have added to the cotton surplus; and reduction of physical labor has resulted in a per-capita decline in the consumption of wheat. The reduction of horses and mules from 27,000,000 to 15,000,000 in favor of tractors and trucks have made it necessary to find a market for cash crops from 30,000,000 acres formerly used to raise horse feed. The greatly reduced birth rate from 25 babies per 1,000 population to 17 means fewer mouths to feed in coming years."

The farmer is therefore confronted (continued on page 8)

Large Audience Expected for Scott Lecture

Business Women Invite Public to Hear Noted China Correspondent

Enthusiastic reports from audiences before which he has spoken prelude the appearance of Roy Scott, newsreel cameraman and foreign correspondent, as a lecturer here Monday evening under the auspices of the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club.

Scott, a member of the expedition that brought back the last panda to arrive from interior China, writes for a number of well known magazines and newspapers, including Life.

His motion pictures include scenes of activity along the great "war road" of China, leading from French Indo-China into the interior.

This road has been largely developed since the Japanese secured a hold on the seaports.

Little-known and seldom photographed tribes of interior China are also pictured in the films, which came near being confiscated more than once before Scott got them out of the orient.

The lecture is the annual public one sponsored by the Antioch Business and Professional Women for people of this and nearby communities.

Wisconsin Philatelists Give Lake Co. Invitation

Antioch stamp collectors are among those who were interested to learn that Lake county philatelists are invited to participate in the annual convention and exhibit of the Wisconsin Federation of Stamp Clubs, in the Hotel Racine, Racine, Wis., May 3-5.

Vocational Ag. Students Earn $2,825 Profit

Future Farmers at Antioch High School Make Studies Pay

During the past year, 43 Future Farmers of the vocational agriculture department of the Antioch Township High school completed 50 farm projects at a profit of $2,825.44.

Marketable produce valued at $5,913.76 was grown by the 45 lads.

Of the entire list, the poultry production projects led in the amount of earnings. Dairy and corn projects followed. Other projects were beef, sheep, hogs, grain, potatoes, soybeans, sweet corn, beekeeping, and soil testing.

Records Kept

According to C. L. Kutil, instructor of vocational agriculture at the Antioch school, all projects were produced under the school's supervision. Accurate bookkeeping records were kept and a complete record of each boy's work was sent to the office of the Illinois state department of education at Springfield.

This year's profit represents an increase of $465.00 over last year's report by the same number of boys. Kutil attributes the increase to several factors. Larger projects, and better quality permitted the boys to win more prizes at fairs and sell their products at greater prices.

Mrs. Louis Koppen has been ill at St. Therese hospital.

Lynn A. Murrie, Brother of Local Resident, Dies

Popular Mundelein Businessman Succumbs to Illness

Friends in the Antioch community joined with the many at Mundelein in expressing regret at word of the death of Lynn A. Murrie, for whom funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Ray-Burnett Funeral home, Libertyville.

All Mundelein stores were closed Saturday afternoon in tribute to his memory.

Murrie was the brother of Village Clerk Roy L. Murrie of Antioch, and was for the past 29 years proprietor of a grocery and meat market in Mundelein.

Survivors include his wife, Fannie; three brothers, Howard of Libertyville; Maurice of Grayslake; and Roy of Antioch; and a sister, Mahel, of Grayslake.

Born Near Grayslake He was born Oct. 8, 1884, at Gages' Corners near Grayslake, and was the son of John S. and Kathie L. Murrie. He attended the Grayslake schools and was a graduate of Beloit college, where he specialized in the study of business administration.

After a few years' experience as a meat cutter, he opened his own store in Mundelein, in 1911. On Oct. 18 of that year he was married to Fannie Smith of Fremont township.

Murrie was vice-president of the Mundelein Lions club, which was organized last year, and was a member of the Libertyville Masonic lodge.

His death, last Thursday morning at Condell Memorial hospital, Libertyville, was attributed to heart complications following several days' illness from influenza.

Interment was in Grayslake cemetery.

Rescue Truck Investment;

Will Pay Big Dividends

Not a charity—but a very real investment for Antioch and for the lakes region in general is the Red Cross rescue truck for which funds are now being raised locally.

If the Antioch rescue squad saved only one life during the course of its career, it would have amply justified its existence.

During the first few months of its career, however, the squad has already done far more than this. It has been credited by a local physician with saving the life of one youth, and has been complimented by others with its fine work in emergencies, such as aiding persons who suffered broken limbs in accidents.

The men who make up the Antioch rescue squad have unselfishly given of their own rather valuable time, and have in many instances paid the expenses of carrying on their humanitarian work out of their own pockets.

The purchase of a rescue truck will enable them to extend the scope of their work, and to make the lakes region a happier SAFER playground for regular residents and for thousands of vacationists.

It isn't a donation you're making, folks. It's an investment.

Average American

Did the depression of the Thirties harm the American spirit? Did it cause some to lose faith in what we call the American dream? Did it lessen self-reliance and stimulate class hatreds?

A lot of people have feared that it did.

Read, then, what the American people think of themselves today, as mirrored in a new Fortune poll: Eighty per cent of Americans, from farm hands and factory workers to prosperous executives, regard themselves as members of the middle class.

Most Americans—including three out of five married men with families to support, and more than half of the unemployed—would rather have a good job, with an even chance of getting promoted or fired, than a secure job at just enough wages to get by.

A majority think that they are better prepared to succeed than their parents were, that their chances of success are better, and that their sons' chances will be still better.

Seventy per cent feel that they have an obligation to pass on to the next generation: better living and social conditions, a higher standard of citizenship, more education, better health. Only ten per cent feel that bequeathing material wealth to their sons is important.

Self-confident, proud, believers in opportunity, builders of a better world—that's us: average Americans! Those qualities and ideals have made America's middle class the highest common denominator of citizenship in the world, a class in which the all-American headline still is: Local Boy Makes Good.

A "Theatre Guild" for Antioch?

A double "worthwhileness" attaches to the movement now being sponsored for the start, in a modest way, of a "little theater guild" for Antioch.

The organization, which will be made up of persons from Antioch and nearby communities who are interested in the field of drama, will donate its proceeds to various deserving local causes. It may also have the possibilities of uncovering occasional real dramatic talent—and will have the added value of providing wholesome recreation both for participants and for audiences.

A good many years ago, according to impressions that may be gleaned from back files of the Antioch News, Antioch people derived a great deal of pleasure from amateur theatricals. The new venture is a worthy one and deserves whole-hearted support from the community.

IN THE UPPER ROOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:17-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—This do in remembrance of me.—1 Corinthians 11:24.

Men sometimes stand at the crossroads of destiny quite unaware of how much hinges upon their choices and actions. One wonders whether the disciples realized that as the Passover drew to its end and the great memorial feast of the new covenant was established, they were witnessing the end of the old and the beginning of the new. It is certain that Jesus did realize the high importance of that hour. He knew He was about to go to the cross, toward which the Passover had pointed throughout the centuries and back to which cross we in the Lord's Supper continue to point as we remember His death until He comes.

We are indeed on holy ground as we go with Him then as He meets His disciples alone in that upper room for a time of fellowship with them as He observes.

I. The Last Passover (vv. 17-20).

"Here we see the perfecting and the passing of the old economy and the beginning of the new. The Passover was observed, the feast of deliverance from slavery, the feast of the exodus, the feast of hope. Men had kept it fitfully through the long centuries, regularly at first and then occasionally through the age of decadence. The King sat down to keep it as one of the nation and the people. That was its last keeping in the economy of God, because all that it had foreshadowed was fulfilled as He sat at the board, and all that it had pointed to found the ultimate fulfillment in Him. He completed that of which the exodus had but been the preparation. The final exodus came by the way of that cross to which He was going" (Dr. G. Campbell Morgan).

II. The Betrayal Predicted (vv. 21-25).

What precious fellowship the twelve and their Lord must have had around that table in the upper room as they celebrated the great feast of their people. Think what a shock came to them as in the midst of this fellowship Jesus quietly and solemnly made the astonishing prediction, "Verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me."

Their joy was changed to exceedingly great sorrow as they asked, "Lord, is it I?" Apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. It is a sad and soul-searching fact which is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

Observe (v. 24) that while Jesus was betrayed and went to the cross in fulfillment of prophecy, that fact did not in the slightest justify His enemies who brought it about (see Acts 2:23, R. V.).

III. The First Communion (vv. 26-30).

Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover, which had just been observed by Him for the last time, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we commonly call "communion" or "the Lord's table."

As we have already suggested, it is a feast of remembrance. "For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup ye do show the Lord's death till He come" (1 Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in remembering His death for them; and they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. In doing so they testify to the world that they believe in and cherish these truths.

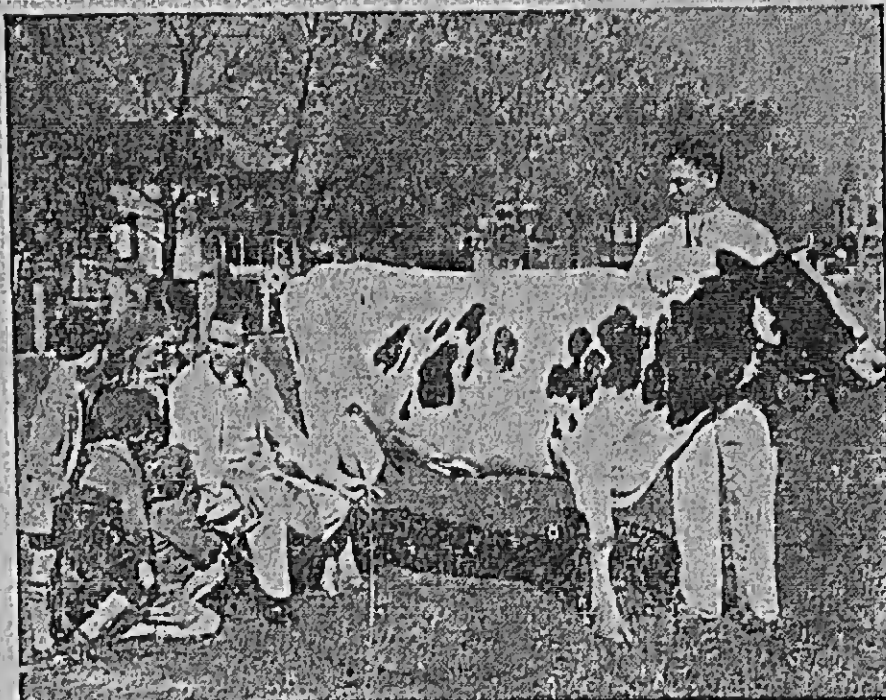

This feast is also rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion, first of all with Him, and then with one another. We also note that our Lord spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means "covenant." The Lord's table therefore speaks of our allegiance to Him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and our devotion to His service. The Christian church therefore speaks of the communion service as a sacrament, a word taken from the Latin sacramentum, meaning "oath," and essentially an oath of allegiance.

His body was broken for us, His blood was shed for the remission of our sins. We are bought with a price, we are not our own. Therefore we are to glorify God with all that we have and are.

Examples Wanted

Whether in the home or in the church, exhortation to goodness is about the most idle waste of breath. People do not want exhortations. They want examples.—Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

"BOSSY" GOES TO SCHOOL

MANY CHICAGO CHILDREN SEE COW FOR FIRST TIME

Milk Foundation Builds for Increased Milk Consumption

For the thousands of boys and girls in the Chicago Area who have never had the opportunity of being on a dairy farm, or of even knowing exactly what a dairy cow looks like, the Milk Foundation, an educational health foundation, organized by members of the Furo Milk Association together with their co-operating dealers, has created its special "cow and calf" project.

This project consists of taking a cow and her calf around to the hundreds of schools in Chicago and its suburbs and letting the youngsters get a first hand view of "Bossy" to see and learn just how milk is made. Then, after each visit, special graded literature on the nutritional importance of milk is sent to the schools where the teachers use it as a complete supplement for a series of health lessons. (In addition to such specialized projects, the "regular" requests received by the Foundation from teachers amount to well over 25,000 each school year. These, in turn, represent between 40-50 students per teacher—or approximately 1,250,000—children.) Thus, we may be sure that the Milk Foundation school program is making for a more health-conscious and therefore, more milk-conscious community—all of which means that the dairy farmer has and will continue to have a steadily growing market for his product.

The benefits of such a school program cannot be overestimated. A health education organization such as the Milk Foundation, can, as Carl F. Deysenroth, manager, puts it: "help to bring about higher standards of physical health through spreading the knowledge of milk's nutritional value and in addition as milk consumption increases, the dairy farming communities become more prosperous."

LAKE VILLA

We are glad to report that Mrs. J. Vaughan, who has been very ill, is much improved. Her mother, Mrs. Winter, came last week from her home in Pennsylvania to be with her for a while.

Carl Seeger spent a few days last week in Victory Memorial hospital for treatment and was able to return home Friday afternoon. The five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Back was also very ill with threatened meningitis and spent several days in St. Theresa hospital. He was able to come home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary McGlashan entertained her sewing club at her home last Thursday afternoon and the ladies made curtains.

Mrs. L. J. Tweed was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening when her daughters, Mrs. Frances Barnstable and Mrs. Hilda Nader, with their husbands, also Mr. and Mrs. Charles Britton and a group of friends from Antioch came in to help her celebrate her birthday, and they brought the "big" cake.

B. J. Galiger slipped on some ice last week and has been confined to his home since then caring for a broken rib.

China—the old and the new—land

The Ladies' Aid society is collecting box tops of Quick Arrow soap flakes and ask that you leave yours with Mrs. Hooper at the drug store. Fire in a clogged chimney at the Harvey Meyer home early last week brought out the fire department, but aside from minor damages to hot walls, no serious damage was done.

Miss Clara Harmon, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Harmon of Waukegan, is very ill and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William Pinch, with whom she makes her home in the East, came last week. She was taken ill before Christmas while at school in the East and was brought home by her mother here in hopes of finding some help for the rather rare disease from which she is suffering. We hope for a better report soon.

The Epworth League young people attended a meeting at Libertyville on Sunday evening and next Sunday will be the guests of the Millburn Christian Endeavor group. Mrs. McLaren, who has been living in Chicago this winter, and her daughter, Marjorie, Alice and Mrs. George Barth, were out Sunday to visit her mother, Mrs. Riney, last Sunday.

Obituary

John T. Crawford

Funeral services were held at the home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for John T. Crawford, with burial in the Millburn cemetery.

He was born in Newport township June 1, 1861, the son of the late Samuel and Jane Crawford. On Dec. 23, 1895, he was united in marriage with Miss Mary Jane Lewin, who preceded him in death April 30, 1935.

Surviving are a son and daughter, Earl and Bertha, of Millburn, and another son, Clarence, of Waukegan. A granddaughter, Lucille Czymar, and several nieces and nephews also survive.

War-Time Gibe

From Germany comes this cartoon gibe at England. Chamberlain says "God is our witness that we did not want this war." Winston Churchill glumly replies, as he views sinking ships: "Let's sure we did not want it like this."

New Dictator

Virtual dictator of Paraguay is President Gen. Jose Felix Estigarribia, who decreed that he was assuming all political power for such time as he deemed necessary to insure order, peace and prosperity to the nation.

Legion Will Be "Caravan" Host

Local Post Will Entertain the Lake County Delegation

Antioch American Legion members are making plans to be hosts to the Lake County Legion caravan at their meeting Thursday evening, March 7, in their clubrooms. The purposes of the "caravan's" visit include checking on the membership of the various posts. Antioch, with a theoretical "quota" of 93 members, has an actual paid-up membership of 100, the largest the post has had in the 15 years since it was organized.

Motion pictures on "The Oregon Trail" will be shown, through the courtesy of a Chicago corporation.

At a meeting to be held by the Legion on Thursday evening, March 21, another movie, of the American Legion's parade at its 1939 national convention in Chicago, will be shown.

Otto S. Klass, school medal award chairman, is working on the annual program for the eighth grade pupils. He has selected as subjects "Honor," "Courage," "Scholarship," "Leadership" and "Service." Speakers will include the Rev. J. E. Charles; the Rev. F. M. Flaherty; the Rev. W. C. Henslee; S. E. Pollock and County Superintendent W. C. Petty.

Was It Cold in Old Days? Veteran Antioch Observer Admits It Was

Were the winters colder in the "good old days," or did they just seem colder?

J. C. James of Antioch, who has kept records of the weather for many years, supplies helpful data for those who would like to find out.

Here are some of the "coldest" temperatures noted by Mr. James in past years:

1909—9 below on 5th.
1903—15 below on 17th.
1904—14 below on 13th.
1906—9 below on 6th.
1907—14 below on 14th.
1908—10 below on 4th.
1909—Zero on 1st.
1910—10 below on 23rd.
1911—2 below on 10th.
1912—24 below on 3rd.
1913—7 below on 5th.
1914—10 below on 8th.

During these same years for March the coldest day was 8 below on the 16th.

A "trough" of cold air that seems to extend down into the Fox river valley from Madison, Wis., is responsible for making Antioch winter temperatures always just a little colder than those of various other towns and cities outside of this valley, Mr. James believes.

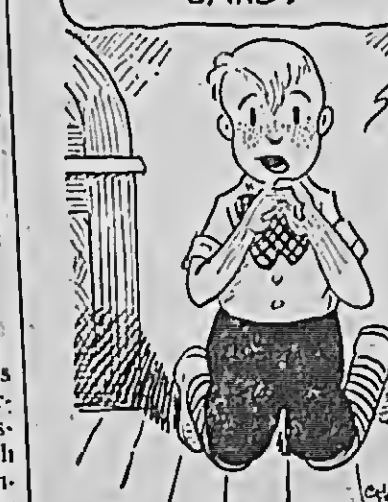

Building the Lily

From tiny bulb to flowering plant within 30 days is the record of this amaryllis, grown in a display room in the Merchandise Mart, Chicago. The lily, measured by Julia McCarthy, grew without soil or sunshine, its roots immersed in a solution of plant growing chemicals.

Herman Holbek, Einar Peterson and John Gaa are the committee for the annual "Ladies' Night" to be held the evening of Tuesday, March 26. The firemen will don their new full dress uniforms for Ladies' Night.

He was born in Porreston and received his bachelor of science degree from the University of Illinois in 1894. His widow and a sister survive. Funeral services were held in the Methodist church at Polo Tuesday afternoon.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS BY JOSEPH W. LaBINE

Foreign Policy Holds Spotlight In Both Houses of Congress; Reciprocal Trade Act Studied

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union

AT HOME: Eyes Overseas

Foreign affairs superseded domestic problems on the congressional calendar. The senate foreign relations committee postponed again its consideration of a proposed arms embargo against Japan, while a subcommittee discussed the resolution of Iowa's Sen. Guy Gillette to invoke the neutrality act in Asia's war. Main reason for delayed action was the rumor that Britain and Japan were about to sign a treaty which would give Tokyo a free hand in China, provided Japan keep hands off British possessions in the Orient.

Foreign policy discussions in the house centered around Secretary of State Cordell Hull's reciprocal trade program. Up for passage was a resolution continuing the state department's trade treaty power, but there was a strong G. O. P. fight to restore the senate's ratification right over such treaties.

Both politics and the war entered into this question. Should the house adopt the resolution (a virtual certainty), Secretary Hull's presidential aspirations would be furthered. Moreover, G. O. P. hopeful Robert Taft, senator from Ohio, was expected to defend his opponent's program from the senate floor. Reason: Tafts have always opposed congressional participation in trade treaties.

How the state department feels about its program with regard to Europe's war was indicated at Chicago, where Assistant Secretary Henry F. Grady addressed a foreign trade convention. Said he: "The results of the trade agreements programs have demonstrated . . . the benefits . . . of such cooperation . . . Shall we, as a great neutral power, continue to uphold the principles of economic cooperation . . . or shall we renounce the cause under pressure from special interest groups?"

Other news from Washington:

¶ Emil Shram, chairman of RFC, told the house inquiry into the National Labor Relations board that NLRB had tried in nine separate cases to make RFC refuse loans to companies accused of not conforming with the Wagner labor act.

¶ The advisory council of the federal reserve system okayed a bill by Delaware's Sen. John Townsend Jr., calling for repeal of the administration's foreign silver purchase program. Reasoning: It is a direct subsidy to foreign governments which must be borne by U. S. taxpayers. Next day Nevada's Sen. Key Pittman suggested that silver bullion should be coined to delay approach of the national debt limit. His reasoning: Since the monetary price of silver is fixed by law at $1.29 an ounce, and since the treasury now pays about 35 cents an ounce on the world market, the reserves could be turned to a good advantage.

¶ The house banking committee deferred its vote on senate-approved legislation to boost the Export-Import bank's working capital by $100,000,000, thus making $20,000,000 available for non-military purchases by Finland.

¶ At Madison, Wis., it was indicated both Senators Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan and Robert Taft of Ohio would enter the April 2 presidential primaries to stop another G. O. P. hopeful, New York's Tom Dewey.

¶ Fearful that congress is "drifting with the international situation," 24 bi-partisan congressmen decided to wrestle with "the first and most fundamental problem before congress—unemployment."

¶ Chairman Arthur Altmeyer of the Social Security board urged that states liberalize their unemployment insurance systems.

¶ A senate subcommittee was named to probe charges by New Hampshire's Sen. Charles Tobey to the effect that two 1940 census questions were an invasion of the right of privacy.

ABROAD: Spreading Warfare

Hard-pressed Finnish troops continued retreating on the Karelian isthmus, where the Russian invaders were pouring men and machines extravagantly into a mighty campaign against the Mannerheim line. Moscow claimed capture of Koivisto, western anchor citadel of the Finnish defense system and guardian of the Reds' immediate objective, Viipuri. As a blizzard swept down to immobilize opposing armies for the time being, the desperate Finns called up men of 45 and 46—their last reserves.

If aid was coming from France and Britain, it took a long time to get there. Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax told the house of commons that munitions were being sent to supplement the British volunteers passing in a steady stream through Norway and Sweden.

In Scandinavia

Denmark remained aloof from complications, apparently through a peculiar arrangement between Britain and Germany. But Norway and Sweden had no such luck.

Norway continued protesting Britain's action in raiding a German supply and prison ship, the Altmark, within Norwegian territorial waters. About 300 British prisoners of war were freed in the raid, Germany complaining that Norway should have protected the Altmark. Britain, on the other hand, wondered why Norway had allowed the ship inside her territorial waters. German wrath cooled when Norway indictated the incident might be turned over to the League of Nations.

Sweden's position was even more delicate. Fearful lest a Soviet victory in Finland would place Sweden next in line for a Russian invasion, the Stockholm government nevertheless hesitated to send aid for fear of angering Russia's partner in crime, Germany. But it was hard for the Swedes to close their eyes when Russian planes crossed the northern frontier and showered 40 bombs on Pajala, a town of 3,000 population.

In the Mediterranean

Britain's disregard for Scandinavian neutrality was also being felt by Italy, heretofore the recipient of many an allied favor. But Italy has consistently refused British-French trade offers; hence the allies decided to apply blockade restrictions against Italian purchases of German coal. Said Ronald Cross, British minister of economic warfare: "A period has been arranged to enable Italy to negotiate to obtain its coal from other sources (meaning England), and this period will come to an end shortly."

Another Mediterranean state, Turkey, prepared to insure Balkan neutrality with force. Said Istanbul's Yeni Sabah, authoritative newspaper: "Turkey will enter the war the day a foreign power marches into the Balkans."

What happened the next day looked bad for Balkan peace. As if acting on the Turkish threat, several hundred Russian technical experts employed in Istanbul industry, got orders from Moscow to hurry home. Meanwhile, Rumania rushed mobilization of 1,000,000 men, presumably to safeguard her Bessarabian province from a Russian attack. But equally important was Germany's challenge of a Rumanian ban on export of aviation gasoline.

In Asia

Japan's diet passed a $2,420,500,000 budget, representing the largest spending program in the nation's history. What made it most outstanding was the breakdown—nearly 70 per cent will be devoted to military purposes. Strongly hinted, moreover, was a plan to spend much of this 70 per cent for an arms replenishing program aimed at preparing the country for a world war. Finance Minister Yukio Sakuruchi told the diet that Nippon's budget must grow bigger instead of smaller.

RELIGION:

Top-of-the-World

At Lhasa, in far-away Tibet, a six-year-old boy arrived from the tiny village of Taerhsu. While Buddhist priests nodded in approval, he was dressed in red silk robes and given a gold crown. Then he was placed on a throne, to reign over the "land at the top of the world," Tibet. As such, young Ling-Erh became dalai lama, so-called reincarnated civil and religious ruler who was reputedly born the moment his predecessor, the thirteenth dalai lama, died on December 17, 1933. For six days Lhasa celebrated with abandon, then settled down for three months of milder celebration. Most evident among those who came to pay tribute was the Chinese delegation sent from Chungking, hoping to establish better economic relations with its Tibetan provinces. Purpose: To open up new trade routes and tap Tibet's vast mineral resources.

COMMERCE:

Kim Crisis

Several weeks ago the Russian freighter Kim caused a mild U. S. sensation. Docking at San Francisco, Kim dumped a cargo of Soviet gold bullion, much to the consternation of congressmen who feared Russia was trading the gold for munitions. A couple of weeks later Kim returned to the news, probably verifying congressional fears. At Mexico's Pacific port of Manzanillo she took aboard 12,000 tons of copper which had been mined in the U. S. and sent to Mexico for transshipment to Vladivostok. From there, observers learned, it will be carted across the Trans-Siberian railroad to Germany.

Informed of this, the commerce department expressed official doubts that such Russian imports would get to Germany. Nevertheless, the department had to admit that 90 per cent of Russia's purchases here since last September have been essentials for war.

MISCELLANY:

¶ At London, the government announced a 20-year program costing $80,000,000 to check industrial strife and economic deterioration in the British West Indies.

¶ At New York surgeons "fished" with wires in the arteries of Smith Reavis, noted Associated Press writer, to remove a blood clot in the abdomen.

At Washington it was announced the Sierra Iron company of Nevada had entered a $10,000,000 contract to use the government's Columbia river hydro-electric energy produced at Bonneville dam, Oregon. Previously negotiated was a $10,000,000 contract with the Aluminum Company of America.

¶ At Detroit a state referee ruled that nearly $3,000,000 in unemployment compensation benefits should be paid to 27,000 of the more than 50,000 Chrysler workers thrown out of work by a prolonged labor dispute last October.

Swedish Volunteers Aid Finland's Cause

Well-protected Swedish volunteers man an anti-aircraft gun in northern Finland, somewhere near the Petsamo area, where fighting was recently resumed. A recent blizzard that swept down from the Arctic brought a temperature of more than 34 degrees below zero to north Finland.

Rescue! Feline Survivors Reach Safety

Rescued from electrocution were a mother cat and two of four kittens who lost themselves in the control room of the perisphere at the 1910 Worlds fair in New York city. After a search of several days the feline family was rescued from among the high tension wires. Two kittens were dead. The mother cat promptly was named "Purrlsphere."

Among the items from Fox Lake—There has been some talk about free delivery of the mail in this section but the majority of people here are not in favor of it, as the present system is better; the mail delivered earlier and oftener than it would be under the new system. We get the mail twice a day, now and once on Sunday, while if carried to the houses by one person part of the people would not get their mail until the middle of the day and only once a day then, and if a telegram was sent by the mail carrier it would probably arrive too late to be of any avail, as in case of sickness every hour counts. Now, if a telegram is received at the office it is delivered to the person to whom it is sent immediately. Moreover, some of those getting mail at this office are very particular, having it delivered in locked bags.

Moving seems all the rage at Loon Lake. Mr. Witt and family are moving on the old Chas. Hastings farm; Mr. Peterson and family of Antioch are moving on the Lavelle farm, and Mr. and Mrs. Meaker have left us.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Barney Trieger of Grass Lake, a boy baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Freeze of Grass Lake have welcomed the advent of a girl baby and are also entertaining Mr. Freeze's mother.

Mr. Fred Hamilton of Lake Villa is building a new residence on a lot adjoining his father's.

H. D. Hughes contributes a column and a half of verse in description of the Illinois Farmers' Institute in Mt. Vernon, beginning:

"At five we pulled out of St. Elmo, Rolled southward and southward and down,

The evening shades gathered around us,

As we rolled into Mt. Vernon town." He describes the breakfast next morning:

"And sure I was all taken back, To see the array of the dishes That we were compelled to attack, before your calves, and let them feed themselves. They start eating when 4 days old and need no milk at all after the first month. It's easy. It's cheap. And folks say it raises calves with real dairy quality. Try some. We'll bet you'll never go back to raising calves on milk out of a bucket again.

THE NEWEST LIGHT SOURCE

Fluorescent Lamps

... what they are ... how they work

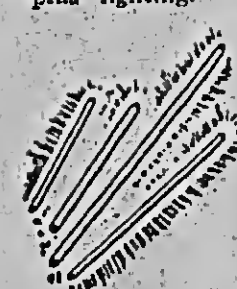

The idea of a Fluorescent light source has long been in the minds of scientists. Centuries ago, it was first discovered that many hundreds of rocks, chemicals, organic and inorganic substances have the property of becoming luminous, or fluorescent, when exposed to certain radiation. From the continued study of this phenomenon has come the development and refinement of what is now known as Fluorescent lighting.

Fluorescent lamps, made possible by these discoveries, are amazing new sources of light. They are slim glass tubes, giving off richly glowing illumination like daylight or in abundant color. They do not contain filaments like ordinary bulbs and tubular lamps. Light is produced through the agency of invisible radiation acting on fluorescent powders with which the inside of the tube is coated. This radiation is created by the flow of electricity through mercury vapor generated in the glass tube. The fluorescent powders are highly efficient converters of this radiation into light.

In the short time since their introduction, smart restaurants, stores, shops, night clubs, businesses and industries of many kinds have adopted the use of Fluorescent lamps to striking advantage. Visitors at the San Francisco and New York World Fairs marvelled at the colored lighting effects obtained with new type lighting. What has caused this sudden interest in and acceptance of Fluorescent lighting? Novelty, for one thing. Fluorescent lighting is new, different, unique—so distinctive that interest in this new lighting method has increased a hundredfold in two short years.

But novelty is not all. The quick success of the Fluorescent lamp is largely due to certain unique advantages which have led to many installations in streamlined and "plus" lighting.

Its size and shape allow freedom for creative design. The small cross section of the lamp is convenient for recessed lighting and modern fixtures, and by combining Fluorescent lamps in various sizes and color selections, many interesting applications are possible.

The highly efficient generation of strong and pure colored light is one of the Fluorescent lamp's outstanding advantages. Lamps are available to produce daylight, white, gold, blue, green, pink and red. The daylight lamp emits light giving a cool, bright effect that shows colors in their outdoor appearance.

Other advantages are inherent in the Fluorescent lamp. It permits higher lighting intensities with existing wiring when used with proper auxiliary equipment. The surface temperature of the Fluorescent lamp is so low it can be touched without discomfort. Because light is emitted quite uniformly from the entire length and surface of the tube, glare is reduced and Fluorescent lamps are therefore often useful for exposed lamp applications.

Fluorescent lamps for many kinds are offered in a variety of sizes including 48 inch (40-watt) 36 inch (30-watt), 24 inch (20-watt), and 18 inch (15-watt). And although no equipment is as yet widely available for homes, special installations of Fluorescent lamps are proving highly satisfactory.

We are frequently asked about the comparative economy of Fluorescent lighting. Cost of lighting with Fluorescent lamps as with Incandescent bulbs is made up of the following items: cost of electricity, cost of lamp renewals, maintenance, and interest and depreciation on the investment in fixtures and equipment. In the case of Fluorescent lamps, there is certain auxiliary equipment necessary for their operation. All these factors must be weighed along with the recognized values of lighting results. Good lighting, whether Fluorescent or Incandescent, doesn't come ready-made. Good lighting must be tailored to fit the job. That is why it is impossible to make any definite statement about the relative costs of Fluorescent versus Incandescent lighting without a complete knowledge of individual situations. In some cases the cost may be higher, in others lower.

Is Fluorescent lighting practical for your business? What equipment shall you select? What about installation costs? The answers to these and many other related questions are available to you without charge or obligation through the services of our lighting specialists. These men are thoroughly familiar with Fluorescent lighting and other types as well. They have no equipment to sell, but they will be glad to give you the benefit of their experience. We invite you to use this service.

"Grapes of Wrath" at the Kenosha

A deep, stirring human appeal draws audiences to the very heights of film entertainment in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "The Grapes of Wrath." John Steinbeck's fearless novel, The 20th Century-Fox film, which at its world premiere achieved the biggest opening attendance in the entire history of New York's 22-year-old Rivoli Theatre, will be shown at the Kenosha theatre for five days starting Saturday.

Under John Ford's honest direction the Joads came to life with all the warmth, vitality and rugged humor that characterized Steinbeck's widely acclaimed novel. Both the spirit and the letter of the book have been followed with extraordinary exactness by Associate Producer Nunnally Johnson who wrote the screen play. The many thousands who eagerly awaited this picture will find every iota of drive and power of the original story has been retained in the screen version.

Tom Joad, who is played by Henry Fonda, remains the courageous figure Steinbeck created. To follow his adventures on the screen is an experience no movie-goer can afford to miss.

"Pudd'n' Head Jones" Will Be Staged Tonight

A character long to be remembered is that of "Pudd'n' Head Jones," in the play of the same name to be given by the J. B. Roinour company this evening in the Crystal theater.

Among its other personalities, the drama tells of a girl who waits ten years for her fiancé and is rebuked at the right time by a younger girl—with amusing results.

There is a strong comedy element in the play, and the story is interesting. "Twelfth Street Rag" will be featured by Jimmy Parsons, saxophonist, among the vaudeville specialties.

Last week's presentation was "The Poor Relation," which drew a good house and was one of the better productions for the troupe this year.

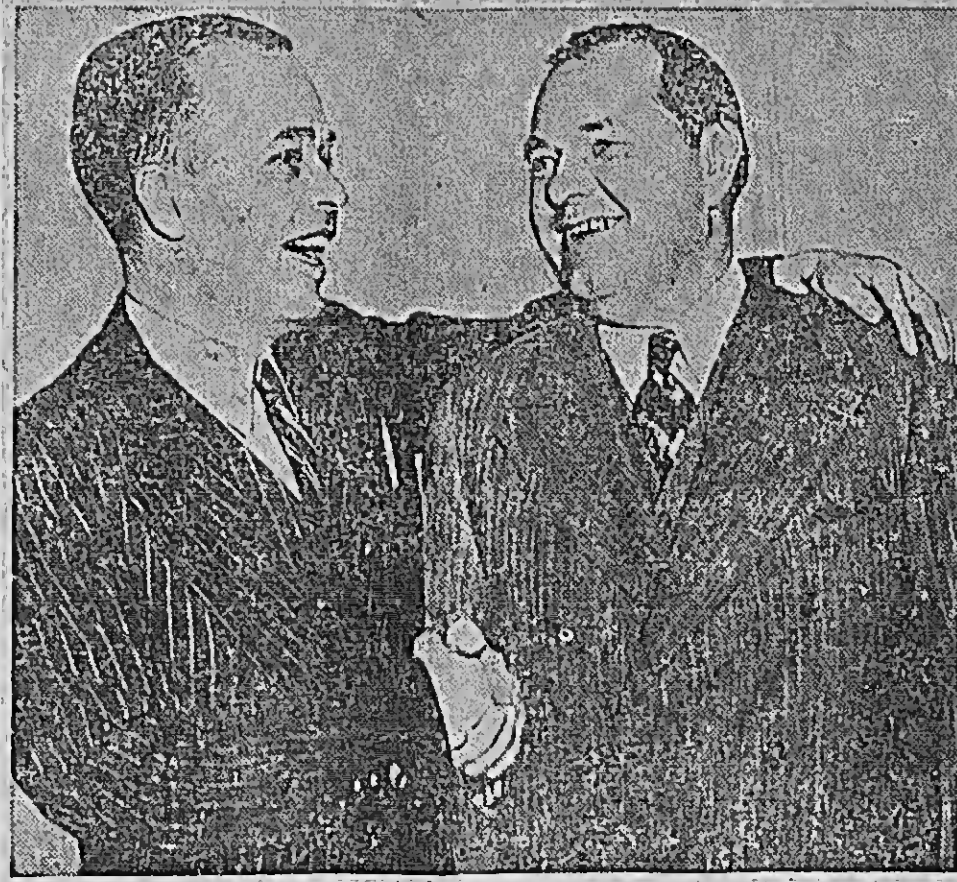

Antioch Farm Youths Defeat Palatine F. F. A.

In a double header basketball game Monday evening, the Antioch Future Farmers defeated the Palatine Future Farmers by wide margins.

The "heavies" team won by a score of 23 to 10 with Ray Wells of Antioch leading in the scoring. The Antioch team showed great improvement for they defeated Palatine previously by 2 points in an overtime game.

The "light weights" won by a margin of 26 to 9, with Lawrence Keisler scoring the most baskets.

They Join Forces to Fight Long Machine

Sam Houston Jones, left, who ran second to Gov. Earl Long in the Louisiana Democratic primaries, embraces James A. Noe, third place candidate. The vote given Jones entitles him to a run-off election against Long in February. Noe announced he will swing his support to Jones in an attempt to beat Long, a brother of the late "Klingle" Huey Long.

Poland's Conquerors Battle Cold Weather

Cold weather and blinding snowstorms in Poland have forced Germany's army of occupation in Poland to employ unusual methods to fight Old Man Winter. Left: A sentry on duty keeps warm with a sheepskin overcoat, which, according to the English censor, was stolen from a "poor Polish shepherd." Right: A German trooper's feet encased in woven straw overshoes in accordance with the Reich's "ersatz" campaign.

Farm Census.....

with the problem of adjusting his production to meet these vital changes and the census will tell him what these changes are. The census figures will tell him what crops are being overproduced; what progress is being made to use more of his crops in industrial plants.

"Industry has developed a fine statistical record which guides its future operations. No one of the 7,000,000 farmers can develop such a set of records for his own guidance because he has only his own figures. Census records of 7,000,000 farms combined is the only complete national picture of farm operations to tell the farmer which way he is going, and to provide students of the serious farm problem with the facts to meet this problem."

Mr. Hamlin urges all of the farmers of this section to co-operate with the enumerator so that a complete record of farm operations in this section can be made. He suggests that farmers acquaint themselves with the essential facts about their 1939 operations, such as number of acres farmed; number of acres owned or rented; value of the production of each item; number and classification of all live-stock; quantity and value of all products including milk, butter, eggs, and even the volume of food produced and consumed on the farm. The enumerator will want to know the number of acres in use for each crop, pasture land, land lying idle or fallow, woodland, amount of farm mortgage, interest rate, expenditure for feed, farm implements, automobiles, trucks, building materials and equipment, fertilizer and gasoline. Mr. Hamlin urges farmers to get help from their county agents, many of whom are able to supply sample copies of the farm schedule.

The Observer

Today's the day when all the "Leap Year babies" celebrate. Happy birthday! ... And as many more of them as possible.

We were kind of embarrassed the other day to get a letter from a sister (married) thanking us for the lovely necklace (which we thought we had sent to a brother—unmarried—to give to his girl friend). Our brother wrote and thanked us for the baby spoon and fork, but as he wouldn't have much use for them for a few years yet, he was giving them to our sister for the little nieces. Hereafter, we are wrapping and addressing all packages one at a time ... and buying another string of beads, we guess.

There are a lot of fallen women, and fallen men, too, along the way these days, what with everything being so slippery. So, be careful when you go out. Don't do like an acquaintance of ours who had a habit of sailing out of the door and jumping down the steps, two at a time, on his way to work in the morning. One a. m. he made his first jump, and landed out in the middle of the street on his back. It seems there had been a sleet storm the night before.

Lightning never strikes twice in the same place, a radio announcer stated authoritatively the other evening. "It doesn't have to," was the cynical back-talk comment of an acquaintance of ours.

night for the first time in a while. We always love to go to card parties and wrestling matches, as it is so much fun to watch the people. Only the card party crowds are a little tougher, as they do their battling at first hand and can cross insults at a glance.

Speaking of radio programs, we wish they'd get some better music on the Sherlock Holmes program. We think Holmes and Watson were done better by back in the days of G. Wash. Coff.
